“Storm Internet deliver quality and reliability; and they have the awards to prove it!”

About System Design Box Ltd.

System Design Box Ltd. have a team of software developers and business/technical consultants who provide fully bespoke solutions to SMEs. They are committed to developing intelligent, highly usable software systems that utilise a multitude of delivery platforms. They work together with their clients to understand their business needs and help them to understand how technology can be used to make their businesses more profitable. They employ talented and innovative developers who specialise in different areas of expertise to ensure the best possible combination of skills and experience to meet their customers needs. Services they offer include; mobile applications, e-commerce systems, and POS systems.

The challenge

As the demand for System Design Box's services continued to grow and with plans to expand their service range further, it became obvious that they required a dedicated server solution. They were looking for a hosting provider who could provide a superfast and reliable dedicated server, with their key requirements being; having the latest hardware, a fast internet backbone and a flexible server setup.

“If we ever get ‘stuck’ we know that Storm’s highly skilled support team are always there to help us out.”

The solution

Storm Internet provide the core platform for System Design Box with a fully managed, dedicated server with the latest software and hardware on which their whole online development strategy depends on, from customer database systems using proprietary server technology to websites of varying types and complexity.

This set up gives System Design Box the freedom to build any type of website or application with the reassurance that they will stay online and perform at optimum levels throughout any traffic peaks. With full control of their dedicated server, they can load almost anything they choose and run anything the way they want, giving them both flexibility and adaptability to provide almost any solution. They have peace of mind that their server is monitored around the clock with Storm's expert engineers pro-actively taking action on any issues before they become a problem.

The Plesk software System Design Box have in place allows them to manage their accounts with ease, leading to lower production costs and lead times. They are able to maintain multiple domains and hosting accounts and perform technical tasks which would previously have required technical support.

Reason for choosing Storm over other providers:

"We already had a good relationship with Storm as we've been very happy customers for over 5 years, so we were convinced that they would be able to provide us with the dedicated server environment that we required."
